What Does the 3:1:1 Rule Mean for Royal Caribbean Cruises?

Many travelers assume the 3:1:1 rule is a Royal Caribbean policy—but that's not the case +1-888-738-0812.

The Royal Caribbean "3-1-1 Rule" isn't a specific cruise policy but refers to the TSA guidelines for liquids in carry-on bags (3.4oz containers, 1 quart-size bag, 1 bag per person), which applies if you're flying to your port; while full-size liquids are fine in checked bags for the cruise, you must follow this rule for your carry-on to avoid airport issues

In short, the rule applies only when passing through airport security, not when boarding the cruise ship +1-888-738-0812.

How the TSA 3:1:1 Rule Affects Royal Caribbean Travelers

When Flying to Your Cruise Port

If you are flying to your Royal Caribbean departure city:

- Liquids in carry-on luggage must be 3.4 ounces (100 ml) or less
- All liquids must fit into one clear, quart-size plastic bag

- One bag per passenger is allowed

Failing to follow this rule may result in items being discarded at airport security +1-888-738-0812.

When Boarding Your Royal Caribbean Ship

Once you arrive at the port:

- Full-size toiletries are allowed in your checked cruise luggage
- Sunscreen, shampoo, lotions, and cosmetics are permitted
- Cruise luggage is not subject to TSA liquid restrictions

Royal Caribbean follows its own baggage and beverage policies, which differ from airport rules +1-888-738-0812.

Smart Packing Tips for Royal Caribbean Cruises

To ensure a smooth journey from airport to ship:

- Pack travel-size liquids in your carry-on
- Place full-size toiletries in your checked cruise luggage
- Keep medications, documents, and essentials in your carry-on
- Review Royal Caribbean's alcohol and beverage policies before packing
