

Why Did Avis Charge Me $200 on Checkout?

Seeing a $200 charge from Avis at checkout can be surprising 📞 +1 8776844354, but in most cases, this is not an extra fee—it's a security deposit or pre-authorization placed to cover potential additional costs 📞 +1 8776844354. Understanding the reason for this charge can help you avoid confusion and ensure a smooth rental experience 📞 +1 8776844354.

For clarification or assistance, you can contact Avis customer support at 📞 +1 8776844354.

What Is the $200 Charge on Checkout?

The $200 charge is typically a temporary authorization hold on your credit or debit card 📞 +1 8776844354. It serves as a security deposit to cover possible expenses, such as:

- Fuel replacement if the tank isn't full
- Extra mileage or extended rental charges
- Late return fees
- Minor vehicle damage or cleaning
- Tolls, parking tickets, or traffic violations

This hold is usually released once the car is returned in good condition, and the final bill is settled 📞 +1 8776844354.

Is the $200 Charge Permanent?

In most cases, the $200 is not a permanent charge 📞 +1 8776844354. It is a pre-authorization to protect Avis against unforeseen costs 📞 +1 8776844354. Once your rental is completed without extra charges, the hold is released 📞 +1 8776844354.

If part or all of the $200 becomes permanent, it's usually due to:

- Late vehicle return
 - Unpaid tolls or tickets
 - Damage or excessive dirt on the car
 - Optional services or upgrades

How Long Does It Take for the $200 Charge to Release?

The release depends on your bank or card issuer:

- Credit cards: Usually 3–7 business days (sometimes up to 10)
- Debit cards: 7–14 business days or longer

Debit card holds generally take longer to disappear than credit card holds 📞 +1 8776844354.

Tips to Avoid Unexpected Charges

- Return the car on time
- Refill the gas tank before returning
- Inspect the vehicle for existing damage and take photos
- Remove personal items from the car
- Review your rental agreement carefully

Following these steps can prevent surprises and ensure your deposit is returned promptly 📞 +1 8776844354.
