What is Diazepam?

Diazepam is a benzodiazepine medication that acts on the central nervous system to reduce anxiety, relax muscles, control seizures, and assist with alcohol withdrawal symptoms. It produces a calming effect by enhancing the neurotransmitter GABA.

Uses of Diazepam

Diazepam is FDA approved and commonly used to manage:

- Anxiety disorders

- Muscle spasms and spasticity
- Seizure disorders including status epilepticus
- Acute alcohol withdrawal symptoms
- Preoperative sedation
- Short-term relief of anxiety symptoms and certain refractory epilepsy cases.

Dosage

Dosage varies based on condition and patient specifics:

- Anxiety: 2-10 mg orally 2-4 times daily
- Muscle spasms: 2-10 mg orally 3-4 times daily
- Status epilepticus: 0.15-0.20 mg/kg IV, repeat as needed (max 10 mg single dose)
- Alcohol withdrawal and seizures have different dosing schedules with close monitoring required

Dosage should always be individualized and guided by a healthcare professional to avoid adverse effects.

Side Effects of Diazepam Medicine

Common side effects include:

- Drowsiness, dizziness, fatigue
- Muscle weakness
- Confusion, especially in elderly patients
- Risk of dependence and withdrawal symptoms after long-term use

Serious side effects require immediate medical attention.
