What is Zolpidem?

Zolpidem is a non-benzodiazepine hypnotic that works by affecting chemicals in the brain that may be unbalanced in people with sleep problems. It promotes sedation and is primarily prescribed for short-term treatment of insomnia.

Uses of Zolpidem

- Short-term treatment of difficulty falling asleep
- Improvement in sleep maintenance throughout the night
- Management of insomnia symptoms

Dosage and Administration

Typical doses for adults include 5mg to 10mg taken immediately before bedtime. The lower dose is recommended for elderly or debilitated patients. It is important to take Zolpidem only when you can dedicate a full night to sleep, as it may cause drowsiness the following day.
