Can You Cancel an Expedia Hotel for Free?

One of the most common questions travelers ask is: Can you cancel Expedia hotel reservations without paying a fee? The answer depends almost entirely on the specific cancellation policy you agreed to at the time of booking.

Refundable vs Non-Refundable Hotel Rooms

When browsing hotels, Expedia clearly labels rates as either "Fully Refundable" or "Non-Refundable."

- Fully Refundable: These bookings allow you to cancel up to a specific deadline (usually 24 to 48 hours before check-in) for a full refund. The funds are typically returned to your original payment method within 3–7 business days.
- Non-Refundable: These rates are cheaper but come with high risk. If you cancel a non-refundable room, you usually forfeit the entire cost of the stay.

Hotel-Specific Cancellation Policies

Call - 📞+1(888) 429-2577 Does Expedia have a no cancel fee policy? Expedia itself does not charge a cancellation fee for hotel bookings. However, the hotel property might. If you miss the cancellation window (e.g., canceling on the day of arrival), the hotel will likely charge a penalty equivalent to one night's room and tax, or potentially the full cost of the stay. Always check the "Rules and Restrictions" link in your confirmation email to see the specific deadline for your property.

Expedia's 24-Hour Cancellation Policy Explained

There is significant confusion regarding the Expedia 24-hour cancellation policy. Many users assume this applies to every booking, but there are important distinctions between flights and hotels.

DOT Rules vs Hotel Policies

Call - 📞 +1(888) 429-2577 For flights, the US Department of Transportation (DOT) mandates that airlines allow a free cancellation within 24 hours of booking, provided the flight is booked at least 7 days in advance. Expedia honors this for flight bookings.

For hotels, does Expedia give you 24 hours to cancel? The answer is often "Yes," but it is not a federal law. Expedia generally allows a grace period where can you cancel Expedia hotel within 24 hours of booking for a full refund, provided your check-in date is not imminent (usually at least 48 hours away). This is a policy designed to correct immediate booking errors.

When the 24-Hour Rule Applies

- Flights: almost always applies (if booked 7+ days out).
- Hotels: applies to most bookings unless explicitly stated as "Non-Refundable / No Changes."
- Packages: strictly depends on the carrier and hotel rules combined.
