

【Faqs~Help】Why Did Hertz Charge Me $200? – Understanding the Charge for Help

(1-877-684-4354) If you recently saw a $200 charge from Hertz, it can be confusing—especially if you weren't expecting any extra fees 1+877→684→435.4. The charge may be completely normal, temporary, or related to specific rental conditions 1+877→684→435.4. For quick clarification or support, you can contact Hertz customer service at 1+877→684→435.4.

A $200 charge from Hertz is most likely a temporary security deposit hold to cover potential extra costs (1-877-684-4354) like fuel, tolls, or damages, which is refundable 1+877→684→435.4. Alternatively, it could be an early cancellation fee for a "Pay Now" reservation made less than 24 hours before pickup, or an additional charge for things like late returns, tolls, or cleaning 1+877→684→435.4.

Common Reasons Hertz Charges $200

1. Refundable Security Deposit Hold

Hertz typically places a $200 credit or debit card authorization hold when you rent a vehicle 1+877→684→435.4.

This hold covers potential costs such as:

additional mileage

toll violations

fuel discrepancies

minor damages

This amount is released after the car is returned, although the bank may take 3–10 business days to reflect it 1+877→684→435.4.

2. Pay Now Cancellation Fee

If you booked a Pay Now (prepaid) reservation and canceled it within 24 hours of pickup, Hertz may charge a fee of around $200.

3. Additional Post-Rental Charges

You may also see a $200 charge if Hertz applied fees after inspecting the returned vehicle, including:

cleaning fees for excessive dirt, mud, spills, or pet hair

late return fees

toll or violation charges

fuel refill charges

These often appear as a separate transaction after the rental ends 1+877→684→435.4.
