What Is Adderall?

Adderall is a prescription central nervous system stimulant containing a combination of amphetamine and dextroamphetamine. Doctors prescribe it for:

- ★ Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)
- ★ Narcolepsy (a sleep-wake disorder)
- ★ Off-label cases only when a doctor determines necessity

Adderall works by increasing the availability of dopamine and norepinephrine, two neurotransmitters essential for attention, motivation, and alertness.

★ How Adderall Works in the Brain

The medication enhances brain-wave patterns associated with:

- Improved sustained attention

- Better task initiation
- Reduced impulsivity
- Heightened executive functioning
- Increased working memory

These changes help individuals regulate behavior, organize tasks, and maintain focus in ways that their brain chemistry may not naturally support.

Types of Adderall

There are two primary forms:

1 Adderall IR (Immediate Release)

- 🕒 Begins working within 30–60 minutes
- 🕒 Duration: ~4–6 hours
- 🕒 Often taken 1–3 times daily

2 Adderall XR (Extended Release)

- 🕒 Single daily capsule
  - 🕒 Duration: ~10–12 hours
  - 🕒 Designed for consistent all-day coverage

Proper Usage Guidelines

Adderall should always be used exactly as prescribed. Safe usage includes:

- Taking it at the same time daily
- Avoiding late-evening doses (to prevent insomnia)
- Never adjusting your dose without doctor approval
- Not combining with alcohol or other stimulants
- Storing securely away from children

Because Adderall is a Schedule II controlled medication, responsible use is essential.

★ Recommended Dosage (In Brief)

⚠️ Dosage depends on individual medical history, age, and response to treatment.
Only a licensed prescriber can choose the right amount.

➤ For ADHD (Adults)

- Typical starting dose: 5 mg once or twice per day (IR)
- Maximum commonly prescribed daily dose: 40 mg/day
- XR version: 20 mg/day is typical

► For ADHD (Children 6+)

- Start: 5 mg once daily
- Increase slowly under supervision

► For Narcolepsy

- Usual range: 5 mg to 60 mg/day divided into 2–3 doses

🔑 Capsule Reminder: Dose sizes are not interchangeable between IR and XR.
