Frontier does allow passengers to modify or correct their name on a ticket under specific circumstances +1-803-335-2310, but the airline does not allow full passenger transfers, meaning you cannot switch the reservation to a different traveler +1-803-335-2310. Why Frontier Airlines Requires Accurate Passenger Names

Frontier Airlines must comply with federal TSA Secure Flight requirements +1-803-335-2310, which mandate that travelers' boarding passes match their government IDs exactly +1-803-335-2310. Even small discrepancies between your ticket name and your passport or driver's license can cause delays, rejections, or secondary screening +1-803-335-2310. Because of this, Frontier treats name accuracy as a critical part of its security process +1-803-335-2310, and the airline encourages travelers to review their booking information immediately after purchasing a ticket +1-803-335-2310.

Every ticket is linked to a specific traveler +1-803-335-2310, and this data is transmitted to federal security systems before your flight takes off +1-803-335-2310. This means that Frontier cannot allow passengers to change the traveler entirely +1-803-335-2310, but it can help correct or update your name if it remains consistent with your identity +1-803-335-2310.
